

SingPost issues stamps in tribute to Singapore's frontline heroes this National Day

Singapore, 5 August 2021 – Singapore Post Limited (SingPost) will launch a set of stamps tomorrow (6 Aug 2021) as a tribute to Singapore's frontline workers. In celebration of Singapore's 56th year of independence, the stamps recognise the diverse groups of frontline workers who have pressed on to serve Singapore in the past year despite the unprecedented challenges they faced.

While healthcare workers have long been recognised as the face of frontline workers since COVID-19 disrupted our everyday lives, there have been many other groups of frontliners who continue to keep the community safe and Singapore's economy going.

Designed in the form of sketches, the set of 10 stamps features (in sequence) a doctor, nurse, swabber, teacher, bus captain, postman, food deliveryman, cleaner, hawker and supermarket staff.

The stamp set also includes a miniature sheet, featuring a montage of these frontline workers.

Miniature Sheet

In addition, the cover of the presentation pack also features more groups of frontline workers, including immigration officers, construction workers and hospitality staff, all of whom have contributed in their ways to fight the COVID-19 pandemic since early last year.

First Day Cover

Since COVID-19 hit Singapore in early 2020, Singapore's essential workforce has and continues to persevere in fighting an unseen enemy while facing their own anxieties, yet holding their posts with responsibility and diligence through the tough times. Overcoming fear, fatigue and discomfort, these everyday heroes go about their work with dignity, bringing hope and strength for fellow Singaporeans.

Sale of stamps

The stamps (valued between 30 cents and S$1.40 each), Miniature Sheet (S$2), Pre-cancelled First Day Covers (S$8.35 with stamps; S$3.40 with miniature sheet) and Presentation Packs (S$11.55) will go on sale from 6 August 2020 at all post offices, Philatelic Stores and online at shop.singpost.com, while stocks last.
